.....IMPROVED.....

Patent Bedstead.

THE Subscribers have purchased the right of manufacturing and vending HINKLEY'S IMPROVED PATENT BEDSTEAD for the city of Bangor.

The improvement is simple in its construction and also in turn using a substantial Bottom to the Bedstead which shall be elastic and have all the advantages of a Slat, or Sacking Bedstead, while at the same time, it serves to secure the posts and rails more perfectly together, without other aid. It can be put up in an immediate superior manner, with much less time and labor than is required to put in a common Bedstead, old or new, with much more ease and satisfaction, gives great strength and support and keeps the Bedstead in proper shape. It cannot be doubted that this simple improvement, which is so easily to be won, take the place of every other method now in use. We can confidently recommend the above improvement to our customers and the public, as the cheapest, most substantial and best Patent Bedstead ever invented.

The Public are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves. SHAW & MERRILL,

MRS. E. KIDDER'S Cholera, Dysentery,

.....AND.....

Diarrhœa Cordial,

—AS—

Immediate and Perfect Remedy,

.....FOR.....

Cholera, Dysentery, Summer Complaints of Children, Diarrhœa, Sea Sickness, general Debility, &c.

WHERE this all powerful antidote is at hand, Cholera is no longer to be seriously feared, or looked upon with terror—as this Cordial will most assuredly cure, if taken at the commencement—It has been before the public for more than seventeen years, and was the first article made known to the public as an

OF THE

CHOLERA.

It has been thoroughly tested in every country and every climate, and its effect has everywhere proved the same;

SURE TO CURE,

even where the disease has advanced to its last stages.

CHOLERA.

Accounts almost daily reach us of the ravages of the CHOLERA, both at home and abroad, and of the little success which has thus far attended the attempts to check its frightful inroads on human life.

Such being the fact, it surely may be regarded as an era in modern discoveries that a medicine has been discovered possessing the power of checking the progress of the Cholera, and eradicating it from the system.

Mrs. Kidder would most respectfully call the attention of the public to this valuable medicine, known as her

"CHOLERA, DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA CORDIAL."

Many thousand lives have been saved by this medicine, when the disease had advanced to its last stages.

It is hoped that every housekeeper will keep the Cordial at hand, and if timely administered but little danger is to be apprehended from an attack of the Cholera, Dysentery or Diarrhœa.

This Cordial immediately checks the very worst DIARRHŒA, and however low the patient may have become, it invariably restores.

The Severest Cases of Dysentery

are immediately counteracted, the pains allayed, the bowels healed, and in frequently the bowels become perfectly regulated and restored in the short space of ten or twelve hours.

Chronic Diarrhœa,

Either in children or adults, of months or years continuance, is most readily cured with this Cordial, notwithstanding they may be reduced to mere skeletons; it immediately strengthens, and shortly restores them to perfect health.

Cholera Infantum.

It has saved the lives of many thousand children when reduced to death's door by this complaint,—it gives them immediate relief, and they very soon recover.

Sea Sickness.

It is a most pleasant and desirable remedy for Sea Sickness. It checks the vomiting and readily restores the patient. It invariably checks vomiting, from no matter what cause.

Children that are Teething,

if inclined to Diarrhœa, should always be provided with this medicine, as it will keep the bowels regulated, and keep off the Canker. It is wholesome, safe and pleasant to the taste, and children are fond of it, and will take it without trouble or dislike.

For General Debility and Dyspepsia, it is a most excellent restorative, giving a healthy tone to both the stomach and bowels, and prevents food from pressing or distressing the stomach.

The public may rest assured that it contains neither opium or mineral substances, or anything that can in the least injure the constitution.

CAUTION.

Be sure that you obtain MRS. E. KIDDER'S CHOLERA MORBUS DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA CORDIAL, and you will get the only true and original article, which has ever been in the highest estimation by the public thoughout the whole country.

It is put up in bottles holding nearly a quart, intended for family use, and sold at One Dollar per bottle.

Holden's Alterative and TONIC MIXTURE,

IS the best combination known for changing the unhealthy secretions of the Stomach, and giving strength to that organ, and for removing many troubles which are often attributed to impurity of the blood.

Its action is that of a mild Alterative and Tonic, restoring health and strength often without producing any sensible evacuation, and without leaving behind any unpleasant effect on the constitution.

By its use the appetite becomes regular and good, digestion perfect, sick head-ache and many nervous disturbances growing out of imperfect digestion are generally cured; persons of debilitated constitutions become healthy and strong by its use.

By reason of the sympathy between the stomach and the skin, many diseases of the latter grow out of a morbid action of the former, even when the ordinary symptoms of Dyspepsia are wanting and are cured by this medicine.

Many troubles of children, supposed to arise from worms, are caused by a deranged state of the stomach, and are removed by its use. Persons both adult and children left feeble by protracted illness on the same principle, are restored to health and vigor by taking it.

It contains no poisonous ingredient, and cannot in any case do harm.

Home Testimony

We, the undersigned, have ourselves, or in our families, used Holden's Alterative and Tonic Mixture and are satisfied it is a very valuable preparation for the cases for which it is recommended.

'Heavens!' exclaims our new law maker, 'will such barbarity be tolerated at this late day?' And the prison doors are opened at once, and the poor debtor rejoices in green fields and pure air But before another year some pettifogging harpy has caught the surety on this 'poor debtor's' bond in his snare, and he must be re lieved

By mighty' cries Backwoods, a stop must be put to them things' and a law is passed giving the poor debtor an opportunity to swear his creditor out of his debt any how But he neglects to take the oath by reason of the want of that quality that would have kept him out of debt, carefulness, and before another year he finds himself in Limbo At the next session there is a general hue and cry after the creditor 'Hunt him down' is the watchword, and hunted down he is The poor debtor is allowed a small farm, and personal property enough to make him comfortable all his days, and the merciless creditor, from whom he has obtained his competency thrusts his hands into his pockets—protrudes his eyes in astonishment—puckers up his lips as if in the act of whistling—stands awhile, collects his thoughts, composes his muscles, and concludes that the only source for him is to become 'poor debtor' also'

Now that it is not good legislation to exempt the body from imprisonment for debt, and to make the homestead inalienable to a proper extent, we do not say But we do protest against this annual crusade against creditors Legislators do not seem to have an idea that the creditor and debtor are one and the same person in this State They can see and sympathise with the starving family of the poor debtor but they cannot see a half a dozen children pulling at the coat tail of the poor credit or a wife glowering before him, and creditors looking anxiously upon him on the one hand, while he is endeavoring to obtain something from his knavish 'poor debtor' on the other They cannot conceive that the man of conscience, of honor, of dignity needs their aid far more than the debtor who if ever he had either of these qualities, has lost it To assist him in his efforts, to sustain himself, and retain his good character, he is never considered in the wise law making'

Facts come to our knowledge occasionally, which show how utterly valueless our laws are to the creditor, The business man in failing circumstances wheedles the poor woman out of a few hundred dollars hard earnings, by promising an exorbitant interest, and the next day sells out, and tells his creditors they must take half for their debts or nothing, or makes over his property to a relative, he pretends to owe for some ancient favor, which was never before considered a claim, and then goes before magistrates and makes oath to his poverty' And strange to say, with all the facts before them, there are magistrates who will not scruple to administer the oath' Men who defraud creditors in this way are not a whit better in prin... rascals can commit the perjury and then go out and presume to hold up their heads as —

Our Legislature have done one good thing—they have appointed a commission to revise the poor debtor laws The commission consists of three good lawyers, and we predict a report that will do justice to both debtor and creditor If it shall be enacted we trust it will be permitted to remain a sufficient length of time, at least, for the Supreme Court to give its opinion upon all its ambiguous provisions—if it shall have any—before it is tinkered upon

☞ The Massachusetts State Prison has now a greater number of convicts than at any previous time In this prison, the Westboro Reform School, and the House of Correction, there are now over one thousand prisoners, each having been sentenced by Courts Most of these are boys and young men The picture is a sad one It should warn every boy in our land to be content in quiet labor, and the pursuit of an honest calling in the ordinary channels of life, instead of becoming restless and discontented, and desirous to wander to the world's end in search of fortune, or to escape from wholesome restraint All sudden efforts on the part of the young especially of apprentice boys, to become their own masters, and to launch out into the conflicts of life, are often but the first bold steps leading to temptation, and the hard trials of sin and transgression

They cannot but see, if they open their eyes to facts that there must be sore perils to the young, when so many of them people the prisons of our land The machinery of evils seems to be increased, with all the increase of advantages of education and moral and religious culture afforded by week day and Sabbath schools, public worship, and moral and religious efforts

Wilmer & Smith's Liverpool Times says, the Government of the United States disapproves of the conduct of its ministers at Rome and Naples, in summoning the American frigate, Constitution, to Gaeta, to do honor to the Pope, and that they have been recalled, the captain of the frigate being reprimanded If this is a fact, it is highly creditable to our government

A letter from the pen of the distinguished florist and Botanist, W R Prince, Esq, of Flushing N Y says there are hundreds of species of trees, shrubs, herbaceous and bulbous flowering plants indigenous to California, which are totally distinct from those found in other parts of the globe, and the most of which are entirely new to the botanic world

So on Horn.

'What manner of man is this
With whom we have to deal at all, at all?'
Paddy

Everbody about the Bridge, recollects old uncle Horn of apple memory, and many of the frequenters of the First Parish Church will recollect him with spectacles on nose and psalm book in hand, at the North East corner of the gallery rendering the choir efficient aid It is not of him however, that we write, but of his son with the musical name that stands at the head of this paragraph

Solon had blown his horn in many of the waste places of the earth, and in some that are not so waste' He once blew it in Louisville, Ky, but blew such a blast upon it that it cracked, and he was forced incontinently to remove his bad sounding instrument to other parts His pa was ...re, and here came Solon But his horn was still cracked, and the music had few attractions for our citizens, and he sputtered to New York, where he found an audience not quite as particular about first notes He has kept blowing until he has raised a breeze to som purpose His notes are delicious indeed Would we could get some of them He publishes "Horn's U S Railroad Gazette,' an exceedingly valuable Railroad and commercial paper It is of the largest size—contains all the Railroad routes in the country, with diagrams of each plans of New York and Boston; diagrams of the Mississippi and Hudson river, and advertisements enough to bewilder an old customer Success to Solon Horn' May the ... ends he now places before innumerable patrons afford him a subsistence far more satisfactory than the refreshments he used to serve up at the basement of the Market; and may the music of his Horn never be at a greater discount than now

The financial writer of the Boston Courier says

"A leak has been discovered in the Worcester Railroad income, which appears to have escaped the vigilance of investigating committees, and by which some $30 000 at least are said to have been surreptitiously taken from the corporation within a few years The Treasurer's office has been opened by false keys and tickets abstracted therefrom, which were sold in packages to agents who forward immigrants and other passengers to the Western country The ... depot master, A W Dana, is deeply concerned in the transaction, and it is understood that he implicates others The corporation ... respects

Reading Circles for Winter Evenings.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

I observe in the Whig this morning, an article, headed 'How to pass Winter Evenings' It proposes the formation of reading societies, where one or more may read for the benefit of all The suggestion is an excellent one in itself, and the query arises if it might not be made available in extending the benefits of Lyceums to districts which have heretofore considered themselves as denied such privileges The utility of Lyceums, as the greatest labor-saving instrument in existence for the acquisition and diffusion of knowledge, and their influence in creating and forming the literary taste of a community, no one will dispute Nor will any one question that they would form a most efficient agency in bringing forward that day so much prayed for in these days, when knowledge shall be dispensed, in the spirit of republicanism, to all alike, and shall elevate the community throughout, to a substantially uniform grade of mental culture

Could they be domiciliated in every neighborhood in the country, and be an institution as permanent and as irremovable (for four or five months of each year) as the school or the church, a few years would witness the fusion of the entire mind of the nation into one homogeneous character of mental cultivation. Not only would they be schools of knowledge, (nearly all the philosophy of ancient times was communicated by lecturers,) but they would provide a means of access to the public mind, upon any subject in which its improvement might be interested Whether the subject be of Peace, Education, or any enterprise of national interest shade trees, (which ought to overspread the land,) school or domestic architecture, or in a word of a nature tending to improve either the public mind, morals or taste, Lyceums thus universal would afford a means of approach to the public mind, and, by means of a systematized connection, under a common guidance, to the minds of the entire people at the same time Changes in public sentiment instead of reaching the thousand local ties of the country in succession, like a traveller would then take place simultaneously throughout the country Than indeed might a nation in respect to each of the varied developments of social advancement as it rises on the scale be born in a day'

But I am forgetting the object for which I took my pen, which was to say a word upon the mode suggested by the article referred to, by which the chief objection to the possibility of making Lyceums thus universal, might be obviated

The objection I take to be the want of a sufficient supply of lecturers, of a suitable character This I say is the chief objection; for although the sparseness of the population in rural districts is an obstacle, it is not one worth considering, since it may be so easily overcome Temperance meetings, in remote school districts have been thronged and the institution of Lyceums upon a permanent foundation, with the understanding that the lectures were to go on whether there were hearers or not, would soon establish a custom of attendance more general than that of attendance upon religious worship

The want of competent lecturers may be supplied by good readers, and the introduction of such a custom would give an impetus to the art of good reading in our schools, now entirely unfelt

It seems to be an impression with some, that a composition can never be read so interestingly by another person as by the author As applied to a good piece, one that is adapted to awaken an interest in the mind of one perusing it, no greater mistake could be made, and persons who advance such an idea, must forget how often they have themselves made the remark of some discourse or address delivered in their hearing that it would have appeared vastly better if it had been delivered by some other person Garrick surprised Hannah More by showing her a power to move, in a poem of which she was the author, which she had not imagined she possessed, and though deeming it bad taste to appear so much affected by her own production, neither she nor Mrs Garrick was able to refrain from tears during the recital of it

Mr Vandenhoff and Fanny Kemble Butler can rivet the attention of three or four thousand persons, to a degree which scarcely any orator in the country could equal while they read to the audience what they have often read to themselves before

These examples shew that good reading may be not less interesting and effective than good oratory, and that a piece may often be read even more effectively by one who has cultivated the art of reading, than by the author who has not They are extreme cases—but it is not extreme powers that we need It is not the talents of a Vandenhoff, a Fanny Kemble, or a Garrick that are requisite for the purpose in hand, since the effect required is so much below that which they produce In every school district may be found those who have or can acquire the power to read well enough for this purpose—well enough to ensure an audience and in ten years it would be hard to find one who could not A lecture might be prepared, by some able writer, printed and distributed to all the Lyceums and read in every neighborhood at the same time, and the sensation it produces and the action it results in, if need be, instead of being confined to the place where the author may happen to be bodily present is felt simultaneously every where else

If Dr Channing's address on War had been thus distributed and read, would it not have done more in one evening to bring the subject into contact with the minds of the people, and to form a national sentiment in relation to it then all that the Peace Societies and Conventions have ever accomplished?

But I have written at greater length than I intended. I should be glad to see this subject recurred to by some one better able than I am to discuss it K

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

What time establishes and consecrates, what experience adopts and confirms, what all men in all places unite in saying is good and valuable, is so no doubt—A popularity of this sort, fixes in society its roots so deep and so strong that time cannot destroy it. The success which has attended this medicine for several years past, has overcome the prejudices of all respectable men and the article has taken a stand among the first class of discoveries and blessings of the age, and when resorted to in season, eradicates the disease for which it is recommended

[From the Boston Post.]

Dr S W Fowle, 138 Washington Street, has an article entitled as above which we believe is the best preparation hitherto discovered for the cure of colds and other consumptive complaints Having tested this medicine, we can speak with confidence as to its salutary effects in removing colds and other complaints incident to this season.

A New Pattern for 1849.

AMONG a host of competitors, THIS STOVE, for its superior advantages, took the first premium at the American institute, city of New York; at the Hartford County Fair Connecticut; at the Worcester Co. Fair, Massachusetts; and Franklin Institute, Philadelphia.

One very important improvement in this Stove is the patent Broiling Chamber, (see cut) by which broiling is done to perfection in from four to six minutes, retaining its juices, and giving steaks the same fine flavor and pleasant twang of the sea; the coal broil, (it being equally well adapted to toasting, roasting or frying) without the draft to the fire-arch—passing through the broiling chamber, and effectually carrying off the scent which usually arises from broiling. The broiling department is always ready, it being operated by the same fire required for other purposes, and not interfering with any other part of the cooking.

The flues being the entire width and passing directly around the oven, applies the heat to all parts alike. The oven for Baking is not equaled by any Stove in use. Warranted as above for thirty days.

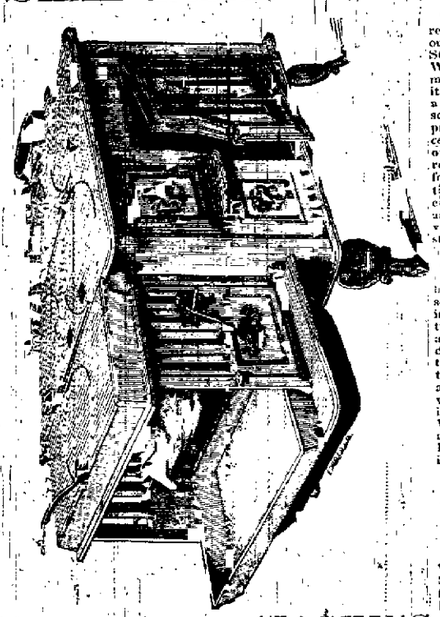
SEE THE RAINBOW



THE Rainbow Cooking Stove represented by cut as above, without doubt, is one of the best cook Stoves ever offered to the public. We cannot here enumerate all the minutiæ of its construction, nor is it necessary; those wishing to buy a cook Stove, can satisfy themselves by seeing it, what is the prospect for a stove and conveniences attached to it. It has two fine ovens distinct from each other,—a roaster in front, where meats or fowl are roasted in a free circulation of air, in the good old fashioned way, by turning on a spit, before an open fire. This invaluable adventage, (possessed by no other stove) will recommend it to a good many house-wives. The back oven is for use, and those using them in the two ways, they bake perfectly. The broiling apparatus is fine, and all scent passes through the flues, burning the steaks, &c., in the circulation of fresh air. The flue passages are very deep, the non-conducting cement at the top and bottom of the oven, protects the parts from too intense heat. It has been tried, and we know it to excel any stove we have in the market,—the castings are very heavy and strong. We expect to have all the medals and awards of all the Fairs, for the Rainbow. Should be happy to show it to those who will call on us.

"Dr S Jewett

Dear sir—I have examined your Pulmonary Elixir, and am well satisfied, that it merits the full confidence of the community as being what it purports to be, an effectual and safe remedy for all the diseases to which the respiratory organs are subject. It may be used with much more safety than almost any other article offered for this purpose, inasmuch as the danger of its producing ill effects in those organs, is so frequent and legitimate result of most other remedies of the class, by reason of their opiate character, or, by this, entirely obviated

The physician who should meet with it in families, would find it a ready assistant, by which his own labor in the dispensation of his time would be obviated, and his efforts for relief essentially aided

With much consideration your obed't servant

EPILEPTIC FITS,

For twenty seven years and six months, cured by the use of this truly wonderful medicine

Read the following remarkable case of two sons of Wm Sucorb Esq of Philadelphia, afflicted with Epileptic Fits for twenty seven years and six months—After travelling through England, Scotland, Germany, and France, consulting the most eminent physicians, and expending for medicine, medical treatment &c nine thousand dollars, returned with his son to this country in November last, without receiving any benefit whatever and was cured by using

HARPS VEGETABLE EXTRACT

I have spent over fifteen thousand dollars for medicine and medical attendance. I was advised to take a tour to Europe with him, which I did. I first visited England I consulted the most eminent physicians there in respect to his case, they examined him and prescribed, but strangely enough they told me the case was incurable Despairing of any change for the better, which cost me about two hundred and fifty dollars packages by the physicians, and the most that I the first was their opinion that my son's case was hopeless, and

POSITIVELY INCURABLE

I accordingly left England, travelled through Scotland, Germany and France and returned home in the month of November, with my son as far from being cured as when I left I saw your advertisement in one of the New York papers, and concluded to try Harp's Vegetable Extract, using your directions and certificates of so many cures, some of twenty and thirty years standing, and I can assure you I am not sorry I did so as by the use of Harp's Vegetable Extract my son has been restored to

PERFECT HEALTH

His reason which was so far gone as to unfit him for business is entirely restored, with the prospect now before him of life, health and usefulness He is now 28 years of age and 27 years 6 months of that time he has been afflicted with the most dreadful and severe, but thanks be to God is now enjoying good health

Now, sir, if without works I don't believe you will be ever grateful to you is showing my heart as I here enclose you one hundred dollars, I have no doubt you will think this another and quite a different thing The debt of gratitude I still owe you, but please accept this amount as interest on the debt in advance Yours very respectfully,

(signed) WILLIAM SCOTT.
